Kelsey Sirica is the Community Volunteer Ambassador for Paterson Great Falls National Historic Park this 2018 year. Before starting her CVA position she has worked with the Girl Scouts of Northern New Jersey as an Environmental Educator. Kelsey graduated from Ramapo College of New Jersey with a Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Studies. Her senior year at Ramapo College she studied abroad in Costa Rica volunteering on an animal sanctuary. Kelsey was also the project manager for her senior project, which involved the prevention of contamination to the Ramapo River Watershed. She has a passion for the environment and wants to share her love and knowledge of it with others. She hopes to bring more environmental awareness to the Paterson Great Falls while engaging with visitors about the vast and incredible history the city of Paterson has to offer.
